MERCY MANOR HISTORY

Mercy Manor was the dream of Sister Jean Foppe. In 1992 this dream became a reality under the leadership of Church Women United when Mercy Manor opened its doors to five women. In 2001, Mercy Manor moved to a larger facility to meet the demands for more residential housing opportunity for women. This meant that Mercy Manor was able to house 10 women in the six month residential program. Since opening its doors, Mercy Manor has served more than 150 women in the residential program and an additional 175 have received supportive services through the Mercy Manor staff, community agencies, the religious community and volunteers throughout the Miami Valley. Mercy Manor is proud that almost 67% of the women served are now living drug free lives, employed and / or have received their GED and have permanent housing. 2015 Mercy Manor began it's transformation from a transitional house to a recovery house for women

WHAT IS MERCY MANOR TODAY?

Mercy Manor is a guiding light for women recovering from alcoholism or drug addiction that provides an alcohol and drug-free living environment, peer support, assistance with obtaining alcohol and drug addiction services, and other alcohol and drug addiction recovery assistance. The length of stay is determined by the resident's needs, progress, and willingness to abide by the recovery housing's set of rules, in collaboration with the recovery housing's Executive Director and House Mangers, and, if appropriate, in consultation with a community addiction services provider.

Interviews are scheduled with women transitioning from community addiction facilities, hospitals, behavioral health facilities and criminal justice facilities.

Through interaction with staff and being in a supportive environment, the participants are given assistance in developing life skills and positive behavior. Goals are set for the self-development of the whole person that includes the physical, psychological, intellectual, interpersonal and spiritual components of self.

MERCY MANOR IS ASHLEY

Mercy Manor is more than just a place to sleep every night. I am so grateful for Mercy Manor because it wasn't for them I honestly don't know where I would have been. I had nowhere else to go, and I was 8 months pregnant when I got out of treatment. Mercy Manor opened their doors wide open for me. I am truly blessed because they usually do not allow your children to live with them in the house; but they made an exception for us. Since going to treatment and Mercy Manor my life is changing drastically. I have so many good things happening in my life now. As of today I am 4 months sober and in recovery. On August 29, 2015 delivered my son, and thankfully by the grace of God he is a beautiful healthy baby boy and he also lives at Mercy Manor with me. That has been a truly blessing to me because due to my addiction I would not have been able to keep him with me had I not been at Mercy Manor. I recently went to court and was granted my visitation rights back with my 2 older children. It had almost been a year since I had seen my 2 children. I even actually got to keep them over night and that was the first time I kept them overnight since they were taken almost 2 years ago. Mercy manor is helping me become Ashley again. I am honesty truly happy now everyday which is Hugh because I haven honestly been happy in almost 4 years.
